

THE CHRONICLE

Not so LONESOME LEDSHAM

Multiple ghost concerns

BY BEN

The quiet village of Ledsham was in uproar yesterday When a young boy named James claimed there was a ghost in his house in East End Lane. These claims were backed up by a well respected member of the community and ‘ghost catcher’ Bert Ellison.Is this fake?

In an exclusive interview with James He said the ghosts new established name was Thomas Kempe and ‘Thomas Kempe’ was terrorising and had trashed his room. James also stated that this ghoul thinks this innocent boy is his apprentice. According to James there as well has been vases smashed and doors slammed and his dog, Tim keeps barking. “It has been very strange lately and nobody in my family is doing it.”

We had a brief interview with ghost catcher, Bert Ellison,65 chipmunk street. He has confirmed that James’ claims are true and has confirmed that he is involved in the case and has witnessed the spirit.

“We've tried to do a method with 8 bottles and a candle but you wouldn't know.” Mr Ellison Told us that he had been catching ghosts for 25 years and has 346 of them in his lifetime.

Another interesting source and an insider to what has been going on in this strange place and this insider is called Simon. He is quite a skeptical witness and behind the scenes he doesn't really believe in ghosts even though he has no evidence unlike Bert and James.

“I'm his best friend and all but I don't really believe him because I was at his house and nothing happened.”

The Harrison family have just moved into this house and it's already going wrong with a ghost.

It has been several weeks since we were at Ledsham but the chronicle can exclusively say that Mr Ellison and Master Harrison have caught the ghost and are overjoyed that East end cottage won't be haunted ever again. That was Bert Ellison's 347th ghost.
