

THE DAILY MAIL

Ancient Ghost Terrorises Family

Young boy claims he is being haunted by a ghost.

BY JOE

Last week, Ledsham was in uproar, after a young boy (James Harrison) claimed there was a ghost roaming his house. When the family moved in, James started finding notes everywhere, and many things have been smashed. Is it really a ghost? Or is he just playing a prank?

James, the victim, stated that the ghost started writing notes, trashing his room and breaking fragile things. “I think it is just the draft,” Mrs Harrison told us. James disagreed, saying that he tried to talk to the ghost, but then books were thrown at him and had his room trashed - that couldn’t have been the draft.

Mr Harrison agreed with his wife, explaining that ghosts aren’t real. It seems like James is telling the truth, as he sounds very serious.

East End Cottage

Bert Ellison, a respected local builder and ghost catcher, quoted he had seen the ghost blowing out the eight candles he laid out while trying to catch it.

In Mr Ellison’s career, he has captured over 100 ghosts successfully, and has never found it so hard to catch one until now. He also stated that he has never come into contact with a ghost that can write.

Simon, James’ best friend said he doesn’t yet believe that James is telling the truth, as he has never seen it in action. He also mentioned that there has never been a ghost in Ledsham for many years.

Although James has never lied to me, a story this peculiar is just not believable yet. Simon seems to be against James, even though he is his best friend.

After many weeks of searching, the ghost is still on the loose. When will the Harrison family finally be free? Bert and James are still working together to catch it. So if you see any ghostly action, call 0191 7913 192. Thank you.