

The vicious voldemort vanished

By redoz lead reorte for the Daily Prophet

On 3rd of october 1981 YOU KNOW WHO finally disappeared thanks to our little hero Harry. Sadly, Harry's parents Lily and James on Halloween at godric's hollow in their house. It was weir why you know who came to murder Lily and James but lost his power trying to kill Harry potter.

Yesterday, witches and wizards came to celebrate in the UK because you know who vanished . We gathered in large groups sending each other messages by owls roaming around in daylight. We celebrated day and night. At night, we exploded the sky with spells and potions. Overjoyed, we even hugged muggles, someone even said we never been so excited.

Soon, muggles were really confused because of our celebration . Once or twice, they made their own news saying owls were behaving strangely. I thought they were only sending messages. They thought the spells and potions we made were shooting stars. The expert on muggles said they don't know you know you has died.

Finally, you know who is gone, we shall live in peace with YOU KNOW WHO is gone. After years of him killing people there will be no more because you know who is gone. Quote from
