You-know-who-is who

By miss Ava head reporter for the magical Daily Prophet

On the 31st of October 1981, it was a mystical halloween night. The vicious voldem... i mean you-know-who showed up at Godrics Hollow and killed Lily and James Potter. He tried to kill Harry Potter but it backfired. The reason is still unknown why this happened.

Yesterday after finding out what happened people celebrated. In the streets nothing but pure madness happened. Randomly witches and wizards started hugging people. Even muggles! Professor sprout was joyful as always and she popped in a quote, "who would not be happy on this happiest of happy days!"

Humerously, our celebration confused every muggle that witnessed this. Our celebration also made the news (i mean the muggle news) Firstly they did not understand the owls passing messages from one to another. Secondly they did not get spells that came from wands and they got confused for shooting stars. We asked a muggle expert for their advice, "they the muggles shall not find out unless we tell them so do avoid this."

Finally we have been greeted with peace since the vicious, rude you-know-who has gone. Harry Potter is now famous. Books about Harry shall be written. Professor Dumbledore head of witchcraft and wizardry said, " I am ashamed about the losses but happy

you know someone died.
