WITCHES AND WIZARDS SWARM THE CITY!!!!!!

By matthew magic reporter of the daily prophet

On Halloween night, the dark wizard vanished thanks to a young lad called Harry. The location was found in Godric's hollow where the potters died. Lily and James potter died of you know who but he could not not kill a little child. How disappointing. We do not know why the crime was committed.

Yesterday, you know who has vanished. People have celebrated in the streets of london. In those streets, large groups of wizards with long, colourful cloaks with hoods danced around like a ballerina. Acting weirdly, they were hugging muggles in groups. Our reporter was chatting to one of the wizards that was celebrating and he said "the dark wizard has finally died" he said.

Somehow, our celebrations confused the muggles and made it on their news. The muggles thought the owls were strange but they were just passing messages to other wizards. Also, sparks confused the muggles as they thought they were shooting stars but they were just spells from the wizards. Our reporter told us what Mr Piney said and he said "well we now know why the wizards were celebrating but the things that the wizards did to our beloved muggles were bad because they did not know what was going on" he announced.

Thankfully, Harry Potter has saved the wizard world and has restored peace in hogwarts.

Shockily, there will be books being written about him. Our reporter told us what Hogwarts master Dumbledore said and he said this " we finally have peace in Hogwarts thanks to our savior Harry Potter and soon he will be at hogwarts." Well that is all we have today and we will see you tomorrow.
