VICIOUS VOLDEMORT VANISHES

By Miley, head reporter of The Daily Prophet

On the 31st October 1981, You-Know-Who was finally defeated by a one year old boy called Harry Potter. Two days ago in Godric's Hollow, You-Know-Who killed Lily and James Potter however when trying to kill Harry he vanished and lost his powers. It is unknown why he wanted to kill Harry Potter.

One day, he will be the most famous wizard in the world. "We are very upset about Lily and James death, but glad Harry stopped You-Know-Who," Professor Dumbledore stated.

Yesterday after finding out You-Know-Whos dead, witches and wizards celebrated all over the world. Out in the streets, large groups of witches and wizards in colorful cloaks, began hugging people, even muggles. Overjoyed at Hogwarts, people began casting spells into the night sky and sending messages through our trusty owls. "Everyone should be celebrating this happy day!" exclaimed a joyful wizard.

Hilariously, our celebrations made the muggles very confused. All day, stupid muggles gave us dirty looks. Our owls confused them more than our magic spells in the sky mistaken for shooting stars. "I know lots about these muggles and the look on their faces, they were flabbergasted!" said a muggle expert.

Because of You-Know-Who's death, we can look forward to years of peace in Hogwarts. Harry Potter's name will be spreading around Hogwrats like a virus.
